

Division Manager Visits Lomita Chamber Meet

Frank Tucker, district manager western division, Chamber of Commerce of the United States arrived Tuesday at the Lomita Chamber of Commerce office. Tucker spent the morning with Lomita manager B. Kenneth Gibson advising him of national interests of the organization. At noon, Tucker addressed a general meeting of the Lomita membership at the Wayfarer's Restaurant, 2230 Pacific Coast Highway, Lomita.

Program chairman for the occasion was Ed Gregory, of the Southern Calif. Gas Company. Tucker, prior to becoming district manager of the western division, served fourteen years as manager of various local Chambers of Commerce in the northwest. His experience in both local and national affairs was most helpful to those in the Lomita Chamber, it was reported.

Gibson, having been off duty for a few weeks due to illness, reports that he is back on the job. He said, "I would like to thank all the many friends who visited me in the hospital, and at home, afterward, for their kindnesses."

Also for the many who sent cards of encouragement. I just can't answer them all in a short length of time."

Harbor College Art Major Wins Design Award

Armando W. Busick, Harbor College sophomore and commercial art major, has been named first place winner in a symbol design competition sponsored by the John Tracy Clinic for the Pre-School Deaf, according to an announcement this week by Harold Hemenway Jones, College art instructor.

Busick, 22, of 8713 S. San Pedro St., Los Angeles, will receive a cash award of $100. His winning design incorporates a small bell form with an inverted "JT" and is intended for official use on emblems, stationary, and all publicity for the clinic, which is an educational center for pre-school deaf and hard of hearing children and their parents.
